

Indemnification of conscious choice to fail cap obligation

The equestrian sport is a risk sport. Riding horses and participating in competitions involves unavoidable risks.

Driving without an approved safety helmet (CUEN 1384) increases these risks. Riding without a safety helmet increases the risk of serious permanent injury as well as death in accidents.

The Netherlands Quarter Horse Association therefore strongly advises all riders at its competitions to use an approved safety helmet. The Dutch Quarter Horse Association excludes all liability for damage that is wholly or partly caused by riding without an approved safety helmet. Failure to use an approved safety helmet is entirely at the rider's own risk.

The undersigned hereby declares to be aware of the serious risks associated with participating in this competition and not using an approved safety helmet.

The undersigned accepts the exclusion of liability by the Netherlands Quarter Horse Association and takes any damage for its own account. The undersigned hereby agrees to all of the above.
